character of the palm impressions he has received from The Journal and studied, and declares that they show the people of this section to be of a high order of intelli-gence. "They are serious people," said he, "for I have yet to find one question that is not confined to the published list of inquiries that may be made."

Dr. Perin has now the largest collection of palm impressions in the world. It exceeds by several thousand the number possessed by the Occult college, of India, of which he is the most distinguished European graduate. Presidents, sings, queens, emperars, empresses, statesmen, military and naval heroes, literary lions, scientists, artists and musicians and vocalists of world-wide reputation have contributed to it. Of the latter he has the "palms" of the most renowned. Of the eminent musicians he has imprints of Sauer, who appears in this city shortly; Paderewski, Godofsky, Hoffman, Joseffy, Rosenthal and Madam Bloomfeld-Zeisler. Of the latter he says she is destined to win world-wide laurels and of course her future will be particularly brilliant.
